If i go ahead I would be using the fastest available flash/SD I have 6GB of RAM current installed so will readyboost make any difference to boot / program load times? Will 2 x 2GB flash drives be quicker than 1 x 4GB or is the limitation on the motherboard?Would an SD card better than USB flash drive? I've also been doing a little research on the same topic and this is what I came up with.. Although the 32-bit version of Windows 7, can only recognize 3 5 GB of system memory (RAM), you can add up to 256 GB of flash memory.
